

Is your business healthy? Take the Biz-Fit Challenge today!

The National Minority Supplier Development Council (NMSDC) has teamed with NuLevel Strategic Solutions to offer a series of FREE online tools to help NMSDC-certified minority business owners assess the health of their businesses. Register for the Biz-Fit Challenge at www.nmsdc.org to access these tools:

- Assess your business' health relative to profitability, liquidity, solvency, leverage and efficiency—the most common factors considered by capital providers.
- Assess how your business is performing relative to their industry peers.

- Use the Breakeven Analyzer to determine your company's current breakeven revenues and its five-year projected breakeven revenues.
- This tool can also help MBEs determine their minimum revenue requirements on an annual, monthly, weekly and per unit basis. Many firms use this data as a core component in implementing long-range or strategic plans.

- Get a rough fair market value estimate for your company, based on applied industry-based valuation multiples. Then, generate a summary report that includes an overview for various valuation methodologies and approaches to building business value; translating value into wealth; interpreting business value; and understanding business value drivers.

NOTE: Research by NuLevel Strategic Solutions indicates that the Biz-Fit Challenge is most beneficial for businesses with annual revenues between $1 million and $5 million.
